Building Smart Water Future by Sharing Experience and Technology
Digital Stream : Navigating Towards the Future for Water

Korea International Water Week(KIWW), the representative follow-up action of the 7th World Water Forum in 2015, is an annual gathering of multi-stakeholders in the field of water to resolve global water challenges. We invite our participants to focus not only on designing concrete plans for implementation of water solutions but also putting those into in-depth discussion for a long-term actions. Each program of KIWW produces meaningful outcomes that serve to strengthen a global water partnership, creating a shared vision of water aligning with the Sustainable Development Goals(SDGs).
